

*A one day Conference of the BSA West
Midlands Medical Sociology Group*

Wednesday 9th November 2011 09:15 – 16:30

‘Translating health related research into practice: issues and opportunities’

This conference will provide an opportunity to explore the sometimes competing agendas of researchers, funders and practitioners. It will be of appeal to those who strive towards research findings having an impact in the theory and practice of health and social policy. It will be a supportive environment for discussion of the research process and of research findings, we particularly welcome postgraduate researchers.
