

Are you interested in being a BSA Theory Study Group Co-convenor?

The Theory Study Group of the British Sociological Association needs new co-convenors! The current members of the convening team (Ioana Cerasella Chis, Joe Davidson, and Sebastian Raza) took on this role in July 2022 and we are now looking for (potentially three) BSA members to take up the torch and continue developing the Study Group in the coming years.

We are keen to ensure a smooth transition by passing on what we have learnt over the past three years. To that end, we invite expressions of interest from individuals or teams to join the current co-convening team in July 2025, with the expectation that the newly appointed convenors would take over the leadership of the group from July 2026.

To apply, please send a statement of up to 200 words to bsatheory@gmail.com describing your interest in the role, alongside a brief outline of one or two events that you would like to host in the coming academic year. To learn more about our previous activities, please visit this page; our latest annual report \(from summer 2024\) is available here. Information regarding the BSA's Study Groups and their Terms of Reference can be found here.

Please note that to be eligible for this role, you need to be a member of the BSA and should not be co-convening any other Study Group (to avoid conflicts of interest).

Please send us your expression of interest no later than Friday, 20th June, 5pm BST. We will review your applications and will organise an online meeting with the successful candidate(s) in July to discuss events and initiatives for the new academic year.

All best wishes,

Ioana

On behalf of the BSA Theory Co-Convening team
